“19 HEROES OF COVID-19”

Jaishree krishna!

Wishing you all a very safe & healthy summer holiday at home. This is the first time no one is discussing the rising temperatures, rather it is being welcomed so that the temperature of our body remains low.

Well in the last one month much has been heard, written, seen and talked about the dreaded so called virus COVID-19. Looking at the current scenario, once again, the almighty has proved that he is the best leveler.

My write up is titled “19 HEROES OF COVID-19” and my story starts at midnight when I hear the sound of a stick banging against the wall of my society compound. That sound gives me the confidence that all is well as Hero #1 - My Security Guard is on the watch so that I can sleep comfortably. Now I am the security guard guarding my family.

Then around 5.30am the door bell rings and the Hero #2 – Milk Man gets the supply of milk. Now I am the milk man who stocks up for 5 days at one go.

Right after, I hear the beep of my car lock and I know its 7.00am and Hero #3 – Car Wash Boy is washing the car. Now I wash it once a week as my car has not moved, nor is there dust in the air.

Then I hear a small knock on my door at 7.30am and it's time to know what's going on in the world. It's Hero #4 – Newspaper Vendor who has just dropped the newspaper at my door. I don't need any newspaper now as I am getting my daily news from 15-20 different sources on my countless Whatsapp groups. Now, every group has their own newspaper boy dropping news right to your phone instead of your doorstep.

Now enters, yes you guessed it right, Hero #5 – My Maid Servant who takes care of dusting, sweeping, mopping and Hero #6 – My Domestic Help who takes care of putting the washing machine on, washing utensils, filling water, kitchen work, etc. Now, the responsibilities have been distributed between my wife, kids and me.

Then around 9.30am the Hero #7 – Ironing Man/Dhobi comes & irons the clothes. In this case, I only have two choices. Either I myself iron the clothes or wear it with a crease. I took the second one & have been wearing un-ironed clothes ever since.

Now enters the next super star, Hero #8 – Sweeper, who sweeps & takes the garbage. Now, it's me wearing a mask, sweeping outside the house and carrying both the dry & wet waste bags to the main collection centre of my society.

While coming back, I went to my neighbour's garden, jumped the garden fence and sneakily robbed some flowers for my pooja as Hero #9 - My Flower Vendor too, like others, has not been coming.

Around 11.00am, Hero #10 – The Vegetable & Fruit Vendor comes to the society to provide us with the freshest there is to offer. Now, I have to stand in queue with social distancing and wait for my turn to get my share for the week.

Now it's the turn of need based supporters like my Hero #11 – Bhangarwala or Raddiwala. There is very little to do here as no newspaper & magazines mean very little waste is collected.

Next up on our list of needs is when the drainage system does not function or any water related issues; we call our Hero #12 – Plumber. Cut to now, where I became the saviour for the building by putting my hand in the pipe and extracting the waste.

After a day of chores when I am washing my hands with soap, suddenly the lights go off and I remember my Hero #13 – The Electrician. However, now I am my own repair man and fixing the fuse is my job.

In my everyday needs while working at home, next comes Hero #14 - My Tiffin Boy. His services are no longer needed because the journey from home to work has been replaced by room to kitchen.

Talking about journey, Hero #15 – My Driver was not coming either. I went down for a car battery check but alas, that failed me and did not start.

Then I became my Hero #16 – The Mechanic and took two cables and connected it on the battery of my other car and jump started the car.

Meanwhile, my wife had ordered some groceries online but our Hero #17 – The Delivery Boy was not allowed so I had to come down at the gate to collect my heavy parcel.

Now on a normal day in evening I would send Hero #18 – My Office Clerk to get some snacks like Bhel, sandwiches, etc from the Hero #19 – The Street Hawker but now I am the hawker and the clerk serving my family by making sandwiches, bhel, fries, etc.

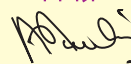

Well! The above story of mine is not to laugh about but it is to make you aware of the facts. These unsung heroes and many other like them who we come across in our daily life must be surviving. Their sole existence depends upon the wages they earn from us with their work. They serve us throughout the year and I also agree that we do pay them for that, we also get upset with them for not performing, not being punctual, etc. But friends, now is the time to repay them by calling them, looking after their basic essentials, their medical needs, or if they need any help as such, etc. Who will look after them if we don't? It's good to donate to all type of relief funds, charitable associations, NGO's but first as the saying goes “Charity Begins At Home”.

Now a few lines for my biggest super heroes of the moment, The BMC Employees, The Healthcare Staff like doctors, paramedics, etc and of course the super star - The Mumbai Police for doing an outstanding job.

Hindi me kahavat hai - Tann Mann aur Dhan se dijiye. So for the all these super heroes, Tann se.... We cannot give our presence but definitely try to look after their food, water, etc. Mann se.... Let's spare a few minutes to pray for the excellent work they are doing by risking their own lives for our safety. Lastly, Dhan se.... Donate whole heartedly towards their welfare.

Jai Mahesh.
